

NPP Young Investigator Award

25th Anniversary NPP Meeting · Utrecht · 15 January 2027

Netherlands Proteomics Platform

Showcase your research. Present your findings. Compete for recognition.

Who Can Apply

The competition is open to PhD candidates working in the Netherlands in the field of proteomics who are attending the conference. To qualify for participation, candidates must meet the following criteria:

- PhD candidate thesis defence must be scheduled after 1 February 2027.
- Must be working at a research organization located in the Netherlands.
- Must be registered to attend the conference.

Competition Format & Awards

- 7-minute pitch presentation.
- 5 PhD presentations presentations selected.
- All presenters of selected talks receive an award of €100 travel money.
- The best pitch in the competition will win the NPP Young Investigator Award of Prize will receive an additional €400 travel money.

Key Dates

Date	Milestone
1 November 2026	Abstract submission deadline
15 December 2026	Notification of selected presenters
15 January 2027	NPP Meeting & award presentations, Utrecht

How to Apply

Submit a short abstract of your research by 1 November 2026 to the organising committee using the google forms registration and register for the event.

Abstract requirements: maximum 500 words, excluding title, affiliations and references. Please include an explicit section stating Novelty and Impact of your work. No figures allowed.

Selected presenters will be notified by 15 December 2026. Abstracts will be evaluated on scientific quality, and relevance to proteomics.

Netherlands Proteomics Platform · netherlandsproteomicsplatform.nl